

ACME Flare Types

Category: Equipment

written by www.mbsmpro.com | January 12, 2026

Refrigeration compressor thread connections are critical components in HVAC systems. Understanding ACME flare specifications, including 7/8" suction, 5/8" discharge, and 1/2" process ports, ensures proper equipment selection, safe installations, and efficient cooling operations in industrial refrigeration applications.